Introduction

The Mandate of NACC as outlined in the Legal Notice no. 170 of 1999 gives the organization the role to coordinate stakeholders in the multi-sectoral response to HIV and AIDS in Kenya. The mission of NACC involves “provide policy and a strategic framework for mobilizing and coordinating resources for the prevention of HIV transmission and provision of care and support to the infected and affected people in Kenya”.

With devolved health systems, financing for health and related investments are the responsibility of County Governments and thus guided policies that trigger Investments towards the integration of HIV and NCDs in service delivery in paramount. A trigger cost integration model will necessitate inclusion of several prevention interventions at various counties that address NCDs and HIV based on previous literature modelled based on existing estimations.

Rationale

County Planning frameworks that are adopted in the County AIDS Strategic Plans (CASPs) are integrated in Medium Term Plans (MTPs), the County Integrated Developed Plans (CIDPs) and further mainstreaming of HIV in to other departments. In most of the CASPs financing framework by counties, NCDs have been in the planning process including TB and Malaria. Notably, there are likely cost challenges that may be incurred while treatment and care services when these integrations are implemented. There is a notable gap in the fiscal space to sustain HIV, TB and Malaria both in treatment and prevention for HIV and NCDs prevention given that the country has spent approximate 12.55% of the total HIV expenditure between 2013-2016. To manage this gap, there is need to identify the cost drivers, unit costs, cost variability and contributions to the overall HIV and NCDs financing frameworks.

To implement these exercise, compliment this task, the department of HIV Investments intents to engage a consultant to undertake an evaluation of the study of the selected NCDs that will address the following:

- iii. Unit cost of analysis for integration- that will underscore the scale and scope of parameters, effect on economic impact of health care access with respect to Average Costs, Marginal costs and Total Cost indicators

Expected Outcome

The rebased economy and transitioning to LMIC profiles Kenya towards Sustainable Domestic Resource Mobilization and related financing that will require adequate costing frameworks to advice the fiscal space from a NCDs and HIV Integration framework. The devolution agenda gives counties the responsibility to finance health care related expenditures and therefore the expected output will be necessary in guiding aspects related to county financing frameworks, alignment of HIV financing to the Public Finance Management Act, 2012 and costing of HIV Resource needs. The assignment proposed will provide innovative mechanisms that counties can adopt to maximize utilization of available HIV financing among counties as well as determining optimal cost estimate and utilization of the funds allocated towards HIV and NCDs.

In summary, the consultant will highlight the following:

Output Expected
